TELEGRAPHIC

[Evening Despatches to the Times.]

From the Army of the Potomac—Lee's Despatches Captured—Fredericksburg Held by Our Left Wing—The First Line of Redoubts Captured—Rebels Burn Their Stores—Railroad Communication With Vicksburg Cut Off—A Cavalry Fight at Warrenton.

NEW YORK, 4th.

The Times' correspondent, dating in the field near Chancellorsville, at 10 A M, May 1st, states that the 2d army corps took a position the night previous on the left, and the 5th corps reached the front about noon. The position there occupied is thus described.

We hold the Gordonsville road securely, and the county road lead to the Spottsylvania Court House, and another road 4 miles to the rear of that. The enemy's flank is thus dangerously exposed, and if they fight it must be in the open field.

A despatch capture yesterday from General Lee to an engineer officer, dated 20th, says Lee was much surprised at this movement, had not anticipated it and was not prepared to give instructions.

NEW YORK, 4th.

The Tribune has just issued an extra at 5 50 A M, stating that our army has advanced, and read the last evening is robin—Fredericksburg.—The first line of rebel redoubts has been carried, and our troops are advancing on the second.—The rebels are concentrating on our right wing at Chancellorsville, where heavy fighting was heard, indicating that the rebels have been forced into a fight on the ground selected by fighting Joe Hooker. The following are the details in the Tribune's extra—

Our news by mail from the Rappahannock, is up to Sunday morning. At that time our left wing was in possession of Fredericksburg and on the first line of redoubts, on the hill behind it, and was feeling its way to the second line.

The river was crossed and the redoubts were carried with great ease and with very slight loss o' life.

The rebels had marched away in the direction of Chancellorsville, two miles above Fredericksburg, to attack our right wing there posted, leaving at first only 10,000 men and consequently not more than from 5,000 to 7,000 in the works, as was ascertained by a reconnoissance from Low's bulldog.

A great portion of our Falmouth batteries were engaged on Sunday with the rebel batteries, firing across the river and city.

The firing, both of infantry and cannonade, in the direction of Chancellorsville was very heavy.

The enemy had been forced to fight on the ground of General Hooker's choosing, as he promised his soldiers in the general order published this morning should be the case.

It was believed on both wings that General Stoneman's expedition to cut the railroad between the rebels and Richmond, had proved successful, thus cutting off the only path of retreat.

So confident was General Hooker at Falmouth of success that on conformity with his order a force had already commenced to rebuild a bridge across the Rappahannock.

The troops are in the finest spirits, and everything looks propitious.

NEW YORK, 4.

The Herald has an extra giving dates up to 11 A. M Sunday, with the important statement that the rebel stores near Fredericksburg and at Stoneman's Station, has been burned, and gives the following rumors—

That our right had captured 15 pieces of artillery; that the Irish brigade had taken three rebel batteries; that our cavalry were tearing up the railroad tracks on the rebel lines, destroying rebel property, or using their country, and carrying consternation and dismay to the rebels; that our forces advanced a mile yesterday, driving the rebels, and are still driving them with great slaughter.

Sunday, 11 a. m.—There is heavy firing on the right.

NEW YORK, 4th.

The Times' correspondent, dating Friday evening, four miles below Fredericksburg, states that two of the rebel lines visible yesterday, have been withdrawn, probably to meet our rear attack to which the rebels were leading all their energies.

Another correspondent dating Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, states that the firing from our forces on the right directly in the rear of the rebels, can be distinctly heard

At the same time our troops are drawn up in two lines of battle this side, whilejour batteries were vigorously firing.

NEW YORK, 4th.

The Cairo, Ill., correspondent of the Times, states that the movement to cut off the rebel communication in the Southwest down the Mississippi & Ohio Railroad, and another in the Central Mississippi, by which all the railroads connecting with Vicksburg were to be cut, have been successful.

NEW YORK, 4th

A Fairfax Court House despatch of the 3d, states that a cavalry fight between Moseley's rebel guerillas and a portion of the 1st Virginia Union regiment, aided by the 8th New York, took place at Warrenton that morning, resulting in the utter route of the rebels, they leaving their dead upon the field.

NEW YORK, 4th.

The steamer Roanoke, from Havana 29th, arrived this morning. The brig Holland arrived at St Jago on the 28th. She reports that on the morning of the 17th she was spoken by the Pirate Alabama, whilst steered westerly

Vera Cruz dates to the 17th states that Puebla had not been taken by the French up to that date.

NEW YORK, 4th.

The Mobile Telegraph says that the Monitor gunboat completed at Montgomery, would soon leave for Mobile to be plated and armed.

ST. LOUIS, 4th.

Advices from Cape Girardeau say the rebels under General Marmaduke, after having their rear assailed twice, and suffering severe loss, finally escaped across White Water river, burning all bridges behind them, and disappearing by various routes in the direction of Chalk Bluff on the Arkansas line.

The result of this raid to the enemy is repeated humiliations, disasters, and a cowardly flight before greatly inferior numbers.

WASHINGTON, 4th.

Three hundred and thirty-nine rebel prisoners were brought to Washington today including one Colonel, one Lieutenant Colonel, and 40 other officers. This makes about 600 since Saturday.

NEW YORK, 4th

A schooner has arrived from Port Royal, and reports she was boarded off Merrill's inlet by a boat from gunboat Monticello, who reported that the St. Braine that day entered that inlet and destroyed two large warehouses filled with cotton; also two schooners with cargoes of boots and shoes &c., for the rebels.

SANDY HOOK 4th

Steamer Etna, from Liverpool 22d ult., arrived this forenoon.

The British Government has ordered the gunboat Alexandra, building for the Confederates, to be detained at Liverpool. The owners and builders are to appear before a magistrate and have a hearing of the case

The proceedings at Admira Wilkes were causing increased irritation in England.

It was also reported that the Emperor Napoleon had become offended at the course of the Federal Government, and intended to recall Count Mercier from Washington.

The Irish Picket

I'm standing in the mud, Biddy,

It's ye I'd like to see, Biddy,

And then, avourneen, here ye say,

"Och, diddy, darlint," then says I,

Says I, "the artful makes your wake,"
Says you, "the divvent, Pat."

When I come home again, Biddy,

Now, Mister Rebel, say yere prayers,
And howld yer dirthy paw,

MAD DOG. There are frequent excitements about mad dogs that are unnecessary, but a case occurred here last winter of a very serious character. About the first of last December a mad dog owned by Reverdon Wilson of Londonderry, bit a dog owned by Michael Priest of this city. Two months afterwards, about the 5th of February, Priest's dog became mad, bit several dogs in Belleville, a valuable cow belonging to J. Y. McQuesten, a steer belonging to Isaac Hosse, a cow belonging to John Hose, and four sheep belonging to David Young. The dogs supposed to be rabid were all killed out one, and he is chained. The sheep died in a couple of weeks The cow was killed for consequences The steer pined away and became mad about two weeks ago and died. About two months after the colt was bitten he grew dumpish, refusing food, and so continued five or six days when he became raving. He was confined in a stall, but was in such a frenzy as a maniac, and suffered terribly. He was finally killed These facts show what we had but previously believed, that mad dogs exist in winter —N. H. Journal of Agriculture.

IMPORTANCE OF ONE MILE. By constructing a canal about three-fourths of a mile in length, from Big Stone Lake to Lake Traverse, steamboats from St Paul could navigate the Minnesota River and the Red River of the North to Lake Winnipeg, a distance of 700 miles! The country traversed by these rivers is surpassingly fertile, and capable of sustaining a dense population. Lake Winnipeg is greater than Lake Ontario, and receives the Saskatchewan River which is navigable to a point (Edmonton House) near the Rocky Mountains, 700 miles west of Lake Winnipeg, and only 150 miles east of the celebrated gold diggings on Fraser River, British Columbia.

The digging of that one mile of canal would, therefore, enable a steamboat from New Orleans to pass into Lake Winnipeg, and from thence to Edmonton House, some 3,000 miles! A bill last session introduced into the Senate, which makes provision for the building of the canal.

Probably in the world there cannot be found a spot across which the digging of so short a canal would effect a result so prodigious. And, what is almost equally remarkable, the ground between the two lakes is so low, and so level, that, it is said, the water flows in times of freshets from one to the other.

A SINGULAR CHAIN OF CASUALTIES. The New Haven Palladium narrates the following curious chapter of casualties: "We noticed a few days ago the suicide of Mr. Eli Tyler, of Middlebury. He hung himself on Wednesday, the 15th, and shortly after the discovery of his body a man named Hayes, a neighbor, started to inform a brother of Mr. Tyler of the fact; his horse ran and he was thrown out, injuring his head badly, and he is reported to have since died! Mr Silas Tuttle started on horseback to obtain a doctor to attend Mr. Hayes, when his horse fell with him breaking three of his ribs.—During the same week Mr. Chester Atwood, of Watertown, a neighbor of the parties above named, while harnessing his horse was kicked by the animal and had his skull broken in. He was injured so severely that he soon expired."

A rebel farmer suggests that the Confederate government can procure all the bacon it wants for its army, by giving sugar in exchange. Unfortunately Wines not sugar enough to save its bacon.

THE ALABAMA. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun remarks:

"The diplomatic correspondence between the United States government and that of Great Britain relative to the Alabama, Confederate cruiser, is believed to be still pending, and a reply to Mr. Seward's strong remonstrance or demands, in the matter, is expected at an early day. Meanwhile, public opinion in England appears to be divided on the subject. It is supposed that Secretary Seward has demanded indemnification for losses of citizens resulting from the spoliations committed by the Alabama.

A correspondent of a Philadelphia paper says that a man who recently died, near Gettysburg, Pa., confessed during his last sickness that he was a Knight of the Golden Circle, which organization kept up a regular communication with the cabinet of Jeff Davis. He said arrangements had been made for the rebels to evacuate Richmond and draw the federal army on to that point, when a general uprising of the K. G. C. in Pennsylvania and other northern States would enable the rebel army to make a flank movement upon Washington, and assume the government.

OBSEQUIES OF COLONEL KIMBALL. The funeral of Lieutenant Colonel J. Kimball, yesterday, was quite an imposing affair, having been participated in by a large number of most respectable citizens as well as three regiments of our city militia.

The remains lay in state in the Governor's Room during the whole morning up to the time of the moving of the procession. Thousands of people again visited the place to view the dead, and the grief expressed was the most genuine and deep seated that was ever felt, perhaps, at the loss of a public man of Colonel Kimball's rank and position in society. His friends in this city were legion, and the attachment to him was almost of a romantic character. His unbounded generosity and noble heartedness as a private citizen, added to his brilliant courage as a soldier, were qualities that naturally won for him the esteem and good wishes of all with whom he came in contact.

N. Y. Herald, April 23d

A special despatch to the Missouri Democrat of the 24th inst., describing the late battle at Fayetteville, says:

"Some 3000 or 4000 rebels under Gen. Cabell, constituted the attacking party. The force stationed at Fayetteville consisted of two regiments of loyal Arkansans, recently enlisted, one of them not yet armed. They fought like heroes Those who had no arms used clubs and stones and some knives, and whatever else they could get, in our hand to hand encounter, and repulsed the enemy with severe loss.

There has, perhaps been no fight during this war in which there was shown such a small scale, to be sure); more determined valor than was exhibited by these Arkansas refugees upon this occasion They fight as men who have suffered much, and who feel deeply. They'll do to tie to."

The rooms in Cleveland, occupied by Conklin, a noted gambler, and one of those concerned in the shooting of Paymaster Cook, were lately cleaned out by an execution, when some curious discoveries were made There were peep holes in the walls, through which an accomplice of the gambler, stationed outside, could see the hand of his victim, and a system of wires and batteries under the floor by which he could communicate to his principal the results of his observations

General Hooker was born in South Carolina, has always been a Democrat, and was selected by the Pierce administration to enforce its offensive measures in Kansas But he is loyal, and is not only willing, to see slavery perish that liberty may live, but he is disposed to make the negroes fight to defend a freedom which has been unexpectedly thrust upon them, and for these things copperheads abuse him.

Deserters who attempt to resist an arrest, do so at the peril of their lives. In the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Berks county, Pa., in the trial of an officer and private, for shooting a deserter who attempted to escape, the Judge distinctly laid down the law, that a deserter is a felon at common law, and that the officer was justified in ordering the guard to fire, rather than permit the escape of the deserter

THE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL HOOKER. Mr. Stanton, the Secretary of War, and General Hooker disagreed upon a certain matter, in which the President stood by the General giving him full permission to carry out his plans in his own way. The President said to General Hooker, in substance, "I know that the country will hold me responsible for the result of the spring campaign, but you are the commander of this army, and you ought to know better than I know and when all were it shall fight—and I am determined to abide to a responsible demand when it may come its commanders—therefore you shall have your own way, and I will hold you responsible." The President and General Hooker were never warmer friends than at this moment.—Wash Cor. Boston Trip.

VALLANDIGHAM, CREATES A "TENNESSEE SENATOR" IN DIXIE. The Plain's Banner, of Franklin, La., thus advertises the gigantic efforts of the chief of the "Copperheads" in behalf of his special friends, the rebels.

Vallandigham's great speech will be issued from the Banner office in a few days, in the form of an extra, at fifty cents each Those at a distance can obtain it by forwarding the price by mail It is a tremendous thunderbolt thrown into Lincoln's camp. It was delivered in the lower House of the United States Congress last month, and is by far the greatest speech of the war It has put the whole Northwest to a blaze and has electrified the South As its lengthy, there being enough for it to fill the Banner full, and two columns besides

REBEL TAXATION. The new rebel tax bill imposes an assessment of eight per cent on all naval stores, salt, wines and spirituous liquors, tobacco, cotton, wool, flour, sugar, molasses, syrup and other agricultural products not necessary for family consumption; one per cent on all money and credits not employed in business; on bankers, $600; tradesmen and dealers, $60, with two and a half per cent on sales; wholesale dealers in liquors, $200 and five per cent on sales; retail liquor dealers, $100 and ten per cent on sales; grocers, $200 and two and a half per cent on sales; pawnbrokers and money and exchange brokers, $200, distillers, $200 and seventy per cent on sales; brewers, $100 and two and a half per cent on sales; hotel-keepers, according to classification, from $30 to $500; commission merchants, $200 and two and a half per cent on sales; theatres, $500 and five per cent on receipts; each circus $10 and $10 for each exhibition; shows and exhibitions $60 each; bowling alleys and billiard rooms, $40 for each alley and table; livery stable keepers, physicians, surgeons and dentists, $60 each; butchers and bakers $50 and one per cent on receipts; salaries under $1500 one per cent, and above that sum two per cent; incomes according to amount, from five to two and a half per cent; joint stock companies, one-tenth of the dividend and reserved fund annually; farmers, one tenth of their produce, deducting so much as will support their families, besides one per cent on all sales of cattle and produce.

What the Rebel Vice President Once Said.

Vice President Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia, made a speech, as it is well known, in the Georgia Convention, in January, 1861, earnestly opposing what he called the suicidal policy of secession, but the pressure brought to bear by the rebel leaders, and the threats of personal violence used, having compelled the acquiescence of a majority of the people of Georgia in this ruinous act, Mr Stephens afterwards gave in his adhesion, declaring he would stand by the South—his own section of the country—in whatever decision its people should make, right or wrong, politic or impolitic—whether it brought independence or ruin We may well believe that his real sentiments have never changed—that he still believes secession to be a suicidal act for the South, and that (Vice President of the Confederacy as he is) he has no confidence whatever in the possibility of establishing permanently an independent slaveholding Confederacy in this country He foresaw the ruin and desolation which the war, occasioned by the rebellion, has brought upon the South—and he without doubt sees the ultimate failure which must attend the revolt against our good and just Government—an act which he well styled "the height of madness, folly and wickedness" Does anyone believe that the Vice President of the "Confederate States," in his inmost heart retracts a tittle one of the prophetic words which follow

That this step once taken could never be recalled, and all the manifold and withering consequences that must follow (as they would ever) will rest on the convention for all coming time. When we who our posterity shall see our fair South desolated by the demon of war, which this act of yours will inevitably invite and call to it, when our green fields of waving harvests shall be trodden down by the murderous soldiery and fiery car of war sweeping over our land, our temples of justice laid in ashes, all the horrors and desolation of war upon us, who but this Convention will be held responsible for it? And who can him who shall have given his vote for this unwise and ill timed measure, (as I honestly think and believe) shall be held in strict account for this accursed act, by the present generation, and proudly cursed and execrated by posterity for all coming time. For the wide and desolating ruin that will inevitably follow his act you now propose to perpetrate

Pause, I entreat you, and consider for a moment what reasons you can give that will even satisfy yourselves in calmer moments—what reasons you can give to your fellow sufferers in the calamity that it will bring upon us? What reasons can you give to the nations of the earth to justify it? They will be the calm and dispassionate judges in the case, and to what cause of one overt act can you name or point, on which to rest the plea of justification? What right has the North assumed? What interest of the South has been invaded? What justice has been denied? and what claim founded in justice and right has been withheld? Can either or you to-day name one governmental act of wrong, deliberately and purposely done by the Government of Washington, of which the South has a right to complain? I challenge the answer

* * * *

Now for you to attempt to overthrow such a Government as this, under which we have lived for more than three quarters of a century—a Government which we have gained our wealth, our standing as a nation, our domestic safety while the elements of peril are around us, with peace and tranquility, accompanied with unbounded prosperity and rights unassailed—in the height of madness, folly and wickedness, to which I can neither lend my sanction nor my vote

In discussing the prospects of General Hooker's advance movement, a correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, in a letter from Aquia Creek, April 30, says

It is not thought that General Hooker will advance much further south just at present I will not say why, because it is unnecessary to allow the enemy to obtain any idea of our future movements Communication with another corps of our army will be opened in a few days, when the real merits of the present grand movement will begin to develop themselves, and some of sooveres may be made that will surprise the public considerably

THREE GREAT CONTESTS AT HAND The Washington correspondent of the New York Post, telegraphs—

The second attack upon Charleston is at hand, and Admiral Du Pont will command it

Three great contests with the rebels will soon begin—at Vicksburg, Charleston and somewhere between Richmond and the Rappahannock.

General Grant may be said to be upon his good behavior just at present There has been a good deal of dissatisfaction with him at headquarters as well as with Admiral Porter, and they will have to do something very soon or give way to men who will

AN INGENIOUS COUNTERFEIT Before the war a certain kind of fine sheeting, made in New England by the Lonsdale works, was very popular, and extensively patronized by the southern merchants Since the war broke out, of course they have been unable to get them. Among the merchandize captured on board of the British prize steamers off Charleston, trying to run the blockade, and brought to Philadelphia to be sold, was found a lot of goods made by the English manufacturers in exact imitation of the Lonsdale article, and bearing a label which is a perfect counterfeit of the New England label, except that for Lonsdale is substituted the word Lansdale Of course, no such works exist in England, and the goods are merely to be palmed off as the American make, upon a people in the south who have been for the past two years swearing that they would never wear Yankee goods if they could get any other. It seems that even their English friends are obliged to counterfeit the Yankee label before they can get them to buy English sheetings. How these contrabs despise the Yankees!

THE MOTIVE FOR GEN HOOKER'S ADVANCE The Philadelphia Press of Saturday thus explains what is said the real motive for the advance of the army of Gen Hooker

"The commanding General, we are told, has been in possession of information for some time past, leading to a thorough understanding of the designs of the enemy in his recent movements in Virginia and North Carolina, It seems that his rebels are apprehensive of their position about Richmond, from contemplated movements upon their communications by our forces at Newbern and Suffolk, and as these movements could not be checked by the rebels whilst General Hooker threatened Richmond, it seemed to be an imperative necessity for them to dislodge our detached troops in Virginia and North Carolina In this end General Hill was ordered to cut upon Foster at Washington and Newbern, N C, while Longstreet was to recapture Suffolk and Norfolk, if possible, and Henry A Wise was directed to remove General Keyes from the Peninsula Hill found his match in North Carolina, and was ordered to join Longstreet before Suffolk The Meadowood river is now blockaded by rebel field batteries with infantry, covered by redoubts, and the position is considered so interesting as to require even the presence, it is said, of the Commander in-Chief at that point,

Hence it is evident that the only sure method of relieving our troops now besieged at Suffolk was in a direct advance of the Army of the Potomac towards Richmond

NEW YORK, 5th.

The Etna arrived up at 1:30 this afternoon.

The Great Eastern has been floated off the gridiron. The day of her sailing is not yet fixed.

The gunboat Alexandria sailed at Liverpool on suspicion of being for Confederate She was exchequered by government on the 20th.— The owners and builders were expected to be brought before Magistrates in a few days, charged with designing to infringe the foreign enlistment act. There was a rumor, however, that the government would give up the steamer for lack of sufficient evidence

It was reported that the government will prevent further shipments from Ireland of organized gangs of men ostensibly for railroad purposes, but believed for northern armies.

The seizure of English vessels for Mexico and the action of Mr Adams in granting a certificate to exempt one of them attracts much attention.

The government declined to send a mail agent by steamer from Matamoras, and recommended them not to carry the mails.

The Times denounces this as pusillanimous and truckling to thedespotism of the Federal cruisers. It can't find for a stand to be made against further encroachments on the rights of neutrals.

Enquiries had been made in Parliament as to course the Government intended to pursue, but Lord Palmerston said the Government postponed answering.

The Morning Post says Mr Adams committed a fatal mistake in granting a certificate of exemption, but it forbears to speak of his extraordinary assumption and strong feeling, being confident that the Washington Government will hasten to disavow the act.

Mr Layard said in the House of Commons that the matter was being considered by the Government, but no communication had yet been made to Mr. Adams.

The Times denounces the seizure of the Dolphin as a worse case than that of the Peterhoff, and says that America relies on the extreme reluctance of England to engage in hostilities with her.

It is reported that Napoleon is greatly offended at the facilities given by Mr Adams for the conveyance of arms to the Mexicans.

The Paris correspondent of the Times says it is thought the time is not far distant when France and England will have to assume another attitude towards America.

The correspondent of the Morning Herald gives a rumor that Count Mercier is to be recalled on account of unfriendly and offensive acts of the Washington Government.

Earl de Grey is the new Secretary of War, and Marquis Hartington under Secretary.

There are increasing apprehensions in Paris on the Polish question. It is believed if the reply from Russia to notes of the three powers be unfavorable, that Napoleon will not hesitate to draw the sword.

The Polish insurgents continue active.

Latest by Telegraph.

London 23d. The news says it is suspected the Government at Washington has given secret orders to its officers, and thinks the instance of Mr. Adams giving a permit to one vessel supports that supposition. It says the said permit by British vessels to the rebels by furnishing supplies furnishes no good ground from arresting British vessels from armaments, and if such an attempt is made by Admiral Wilkes, the British Government will put it down

The Post argues that Earl Russell acted sensibly in declining to send a mail to Matamoras by steamer Sea Queen.

Paris 23d ult.—Two serious engagements occurred on Tuesday between the insurgents and Russians in the forest of Campinos, 6 miles from Warsaw, and at Pultrusk The latter was bursted by the Russians

Copenhagen 22d.—Prince William of Denmark has accepted the crown of Greece.

A GALLANT DEED AND A CHIVALROUS RETURN. In the recent movement of Stoneman's cavalry the advance was led by Lieutenant Paine of the First Maine Cavalry. Being separated by a considerable distance from the main body, he encountered unexpectedly a superior force of rebel cavalry, and his whole party were taken prisoners. They were hurried off as rapidly as possible to get them out of the way of our advancing forces, and in crossing a rapid and deep stream, Lieutenant Henry, commanding the rebel force, was swept off his horse As none of his men seemed to think or care anything about saving him, his prisoner, Lieutenant Paine, leaped off his horse, seized the drowning man by his collar, swam ashore with him and saved his life, thus literally capturing his captor. He was sent to Richmond with the rest of the prisoners, and the facts being made known to General Fitz Hugh Lee, he wrote a statement of them to General Winder, the provost marshal of Richmond, who ordered the instant release of Lieutenant Paine without even parole, promise or condition, and we presume, with the compliments of the confederacy. He arrived in Washington on Saturday last This act of generosity as well as justice, must command our highest admiration.—There's some hope for men who can behave in such a manner. But the strangest part of the story is yet to come. Lieutenant Paine on arriving in Washington learned that the officer whose life he had thus gallantly saved had since been taken prisoner by our forces, and had just been confined in the Old Capitol prison. At the last we heard of him he was on his way to General Martindale's headquarters to obtain a pass to visit his generous and chivalrous captor.

A Remarkable Cure in Bangor.

I, W H PAIPUHARD, do certify that my wife Esther S, has had weak Eyes from childhood, caused by measles. One year since a lump appeared on the lens of her eye It increased to the size of a large pea, causing constant pain and fears about the progress it was making I took my wife Mrs. H. to DROWN at the exchange and told me she could remove it, and restore strength to her eyes Mrs. D applied the remedy as per directions in the evening, and at nine o'clock the lump was gone We could see no more specks My wife can now see people walking on the other side of the street which she could never do before She has always had headache when riding in a carriage Yesterday, when riding in a car rage, she had no return of headache. My own eyes were treated two or three times by Mrs. Brown I find them much strengthened. W H. PAIPUHARD.

American & Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
(under the Act of 1837.)

76 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States also, in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries Caveats, Assignments, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers for the Courts for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and opinions as to their novelty rendered on all matters touching the same Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar Assignments recorded at Washington

The agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have an unequaled facility for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions, obtaining them by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The best evidence which can be given, proves that none is more successful in the Patent Office than the subscriber, and no success is the best proof of knowledge and ability, he trusts and thinks he has sufficient reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate To the inventor the services of the subscriber during the early years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved in person.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office"

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me Twenty original applications, on all the some of which patents have been granted, and the rest are pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him, to procure their patents as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN "EGGAR

During eight months, the subscriber, it course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIX PAPER APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL REMEDY.

BASES its great claim to the confidence of the public on its perfect simplicity, and freedom from every compound which in any way pleases revolts on its use. Day or Night, by Old or Young, but to find the real secret of its unequalled character and results, to which thousands can testify, by its being made the Pocket Remedy or Family Companion of all, and the enemy to all Throat and Lung Complaints, by using it every hour, if necessary or when there is the least feeling in the Throat or disposition to Cough. By such freedom of use it dispositively

CURES

Coughs,
Colds,
Sore Throat,
Bronchia Complaints,
Hoarseness

and all such, as when neglected, end in

CONSUMPTION!

To Public Speakers and Singers it is most valuable, as it goes to the seat of disease in the Throat and prevents the prostration with follows great exertion.

As a Soothing Syrup its simplicity calls for special attention, as the most delicate infant may take it with the greatest freedom

HUNNEWELL'S

This Preparation, by its splendid results has shown the great necessity of a true Nervous and Spasmodic Remedy, which goes to the work on all such complaints, completely relieving the pains, and leaving no single debility be old.

As most of maladies of this nature proceed from inward causes, they are reached only through the stomach, and in most of them, time and money is wasted by the use of Linitments and Lotions

Let this preparation be fairly tested and it will be found worthy the name and fame of a true

ANODYNE!

IT CURES

Neuralgia,
Rheumatism,
Gout,
Tooth Ache,
Ear Ache,
Nervous Head Ache,
Distress after eating,
Fits,

also, the origin of all manner of disease and insanity

LOSS OF SLEEP!

☞ The Sleepless Draught it gives the most refreshing sleep

To Females, suffering the pains of Monthly Menstruation, it completely relieves, while Nature's work is undisturbed. This is of great importance as from this source dates more, if not all, wrecks in the Nervous System, and Chronic Female complaints

For Stomach, or Bowel Worms, it is a sure remedy

For children when Teething, it completely soothes the pain, by dilating with milk and rubbing the Gums When very sore give it in ½ to 10 drop doses in milk, and is a perfect relief
